Does Ottawa have a battery energy storage plan?

In 2025, the City of Ottawa established official plan and zoning provisions for battery energy storage uses in accordance with new Official Plan policy. BESS is an emerging technology using batteries and associated equipment to store excess energy from the electrical grid, which can then discharge energy in periods of high demand.

Is battery energy storage the best way to meet Ontario's growing electricity demand?

Battery energy storage is the most affordable, lowest-emission path to meeting Ontario's growing electricity demand and delivering a reliable power supply in rural Ottawa, and it can get the job done with a laser focus on safety, concludes a new analysis by Dunsky Energy + Climate released Thursday.

Why is battery storage important?

The storage capacity of a battery determines how much electricity it can hold. It's important to size the battery appropriately based on your energy usage and backup power needs. Battery storage technologies are making the case for replacing fossil fuels with renewable energy.

Do battery energy storage systems win big on community & costs?

Battery energy storage systems (BESS) win big on community, costs, and climate, concludes the study commissioned by Evolugen, a Gatineau, Quebec-based unit of Brookfield Renewables that is seeking to build a 250-megawatt BESS facility in the rural community of South March, in Ottawa's west end.
