

Are the batteries in the solar container communication station inverter harmful

Overview

Are Chinese-made solar inverters a supply-chain vulnerability?

Leading renewable energy operators worldwide are confronting a disturbing supply-chain vulnerability: undocumented communication modules found in Chinese-made solar inverters and batteries.

Are cellular radios soldered to inverter & battery circuit boards?

Confirmed Findings: On May 14, 2025, Reuters reported that U.S. energy officials and third-party hardware analysts uncovered cellular radios and other comms modules directly soldered onto inverter and battery circuit boards, features absent from all publicly available specifications (Reuters, May 14 2025).

Are hidden radios in Chinese-manufactured inverters a threat?

Hidden radios in Chinese-manufactured inverters expose a real supply-chain vulnerability that could undermine grid stability and corporate reputation. Maya Security specializes in operational-technology resilience assessments, uncovering undisclosed hardware risks before they become emergencies.

Are hidden inverters being audited?

Audits Underway The U.K. Department for Energy Security is auditing imported inverters for hidden modules, with potential restrictions to follow. Utility-Led Teardowns: Several large utilities have contracted independent labs to perform physical teardown analyses, verifying or refuting the presence of undisclosed radios.
