

Solar power station in China in Myanmar

Overview

Is there a solar power system in Myanmar?

In Myanmar, there are solar-powered battery charging stations, solar lighting, solar home systems, and village solar minigrids. However, there is no data available on their overall capacity and extent.

What is Myanmar's Solar potential?

In the short- to medium-term, off-grid solar home systems and mini-grid solar / solar/hybrid projects aim to connect households in remote locations where the costs of grid access are prohibitively expensive. The Asian Development Bank estimates Myanmar's potential solar resource at 27 GW. To date, very little of this potential has been realised.

Where is powerchina located?

Located in Magway Province, Myanmar and with a total installed capacity of 40.28 MWp, the power station is projected to generate 64.64 million kWh of electricity for the grid on average per year. Since the start of the project, POWERCHINA has completed various tasks, such as power agreement signing and land leases.

How many kilowatts a year will China's Power Station produce?

The power station is the fourth China-built PV power generation project in the country and is expected to produce 63.7 million kilowatt-hours of power annually, meeting domestic demands of 29,670 households.
