Who makes wind turbines in Vietnam?

Siemens Gamesa, a major global wind turbine manufacturer and project developer, has a strong presence in Vietnam. The company supplies wind turbines for several onshore and offshore projects and provides maintenance and technical support.

Does Vietnam have a supply chain for offshore wind?

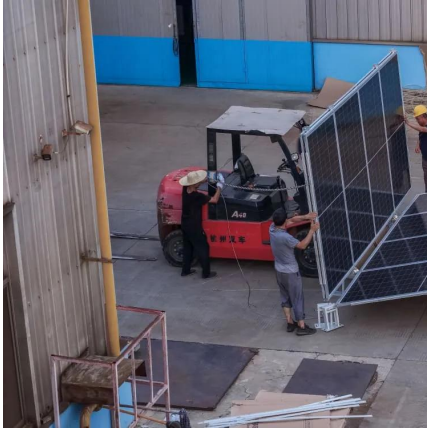

Vietnam boasts a pre-existing supply chain in parallel industries with synergies to offshore wind, including oil and gas and onshore wind. This suggests the country's potential to leverage its existing experience in parallel industries to supply and facilitate the development of offshore wind projects.

Can Vietnam develop offshore wind projects?

Given the suitable water depth, distance to the shore, and good offshore wind resources, large areas of Vietnam's territorial waters are suitable for offshore wind developments. Developing offshore wind projects requires a complex and coordinated supply chain that involves various stakeholders, activities, and resources.
